So we finally did a close read-through of Mr. Hiskey's financial statements he sent us. I am going to send them back to him, as they are confidential records and we don't need to keep them in house – FYI.

Ross Baxter, our law clerk, wrote up this summary. Considering Mr. Hiskey's massive debts and advanced age (he's 81 years old), I feel comfortable saying he does not have the ability to pay for remediation. Of course, this is just my opinion after reading his documents; we can do a formal EPA-based "Ability to Pay" if you want. Feel free to put this memo in the file though, for future reference.

Do you want to talk about what the next step is?

Thanks,
TM
