

Great Plains Ladies Tresses Spiranthes magnicamporum

Habitat: Dry bluff or hill prairies over limestone or dolomite

Blooms: Creamy white to yellowish flowers bloom from early September to early October.

Threats:

- Encroachment of woody vegetation

Habitat Improvement Guidelines:

- Remove encroaching woody vegetation being aware of individual plants.
- Control woody invasion with prescribed fire.

