The right-hander allowed hits to the first two batters, then picked off a runner before get-ting 19 straight outs. The streak ended when Dan-iel Murphy singled with two outs in the seventh. By that time, St. Louis had taken a 3-0 lead against Scherzer, who yielded only one earned run. He did, how-ever, throw three wild pitches — two in the third inning — after toss-ing only two all last year while going 20-7.
